

Republican Meeting

Hon. Brutus Clay, Saturday, at 2 p. m. in Vocational Chapel and at 7 p. m. in Main Chapel

Clay is one of the greatest names in Kentucky, and Brutus Clay of our own county is a noble representative of the line. He has been the U. S. Minister to Switzerland, and is a speaker who always delights and instructs. The people of Berea wish to know about the issues of the present campaign and every voter should be on hand next Saturday.

"The Unspeakable Turk"

The great Sherman said, "War is hell." Yet even war has been glorified by principles of honor, respect for the weak, and the scorn of mean advantages.

No such glimmerings of honor, or even "enlightened selfishness," seem to affect the Turk. He has been butchering the Armenian men in his own armies, murdering the helpless and harmless women, and seemingly enjoying the exercise of cruelty as other men enjoy eating or doing good.

What is it, what can it be, in the heart of a man that delights in evil?

We have Turks in America. The man who cheats in a bargain is a small Turk. The man that betrays a woman is a Turk. The man that exults in any meanness of which he should be ashamed is a Turk.

Can the Turks be converted? If they are not to be converted they ought to be hanged.

President Wilson asks us to pray for the Armenians, and send money to feed the women whom the Turks are keeping in pens to be butchered a little later on. And we are sending some money, but we had rather send some missionaries or some battle ships to bombard the Turks. If God answers our prayers for the Armenians he will have to do something to the Turks.

Every loyal Republican will be glad to read Theodore Roosevelt's Louisville speech on page 3 of this issue.

No one wants to forget the date of the Berea Agricultural and School Fair, November 3-4. Remember the Mountain Workers' Conference will be in session at the same time, October 31 to November 5. This will be a good time to subscribe for The Citizen.

We are thinking seriously, on account of the big advance in price of paper, to raise our subscription price to $1.50 after January 1, 1917. You will do well to subscribe or renew before that date on the old price. See some of the Auto contestants and save yourself 50c on your subscription.

IN OUR OWN STATE

The ninth annual session of the Kentucky Conference of Charities and Correction opened in Owensboro Saturday.

Circuit Judge Reed, of Paducah, issued a call Monday for a special grand jury to probe the double lynching that occurred there last week.

The Federal Farm Loan Board will hold a second hearing in Louisville November 24, according to announcement Thursday in Washington.

Illiteracy has been wiped out in twelve Kentucky counties, according to Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart. In the last two years 40,000 adults have been taught to read and write and 25,000 more will be taught this year.

Expectations that the Kentucky National Guardsmen would return from the border in time for the national election were shattered by a War Department statement Friday that no order for return was contemplated.

After January 1st no person holding a political position in Kentucky will be permitted to use railroad passes. Even employees of railroads must deny themselves the privilege of passes if they want to continue in public office.

Two freight rate cases of vital interest to the coal industry of Eastern Kentucky are in course of trial before the Interstate Commerce Commission. The Kentucky mining interests are opposing a horizontal increase of rates on shipments into Ohio and Indiana.

Because of a shortage in railroad coal cars, due to the shipping demands of unusual prosperity, Louisville faces a famine in coal for steam production, such as threaten the closing of manufacturing plants, and may require adjustment by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Tribute was paid Sunday at a meeting of the Kentucky Conference of Charities and Correction at Owensboro to the way Louisville prisons are conducted. Miss Linda Neville, of Lexington, member of the National Committee on Prisons, said future Governors should be educated as to the need of prison reform.

London Banker Fitzgerald Goes to Pen

McCulla Fitzgerald, former cashier of the defunct First National Bank of London was taken to the Atlanta prison to serve his sentence. He was convicted in the Federal Court several months ago for misappropriating the bank's funds; took an appeal from the verdict of the Court, but failed to make a bond for costs. When the time for filing of the bond expired he was rearrested and taken to prison at once.

Two of Richmond's Public Men Die Within a Week

D. M. Chenault, after a brief illness, died at his home in Richmond, Wednesday, October 18th. He was a practicing lawyer at our county seat for thirty years, and for the past three years was city attorney of Richmond.

The following Tuesday, October 24th, the city was again shocked by the death of Roy C. White, Clerk of the Madison Circuit Court, which office he held two terms.

Both these men made good records as public officials and their equals will be hard to find.

Oil Well Supplies Received

That the oil business is booming is evidenced by the shipping of oil well supplies by many car lots to Irvine. The demand for these is the largest in the history of the Irvine field.

Roosevelt at Corbin

It is estimated that 15,000 people gathered at Corbin to see the ex-president. He spoke to a crowd of 5,000 in a downpour of rain. A special train from Gatlinburg carried more than 1,000 from Whitley County to hear the Colonel.

Prominent Railway Man Dead

John A. Fox, superintendent of the Clifton Forge Division of the C. & O. Railway, died suddenly last Sunday. He started as a fireman, was promoted to engineer, then to road foreman of engines, and finally to superintendent of a division. No man in the employ of the system had more friends than Mr. Cox. The remains were buried at Cynthiana.

POUNDED TO PIECES

TEMPEST CLAIMS 21 LIVES—LAKE ERIE YIELDS ANOTHER VICTIM OF GALE'S FURY.

Adrift for 34 Hours Skipper Is Rescued, Half Dead From Battle With Turbulent Seas.

Western Newspaper Union News Service. Cleveland, Ohio.—Storm-swept Lake Erie gave up another fragment of the story of its "Black Friday"—another vessel pounded to pieces in the stinging gale and grinding waves, carrying 21 men to their death. The last vessel is the Duluth-owned whaleback James B. Colgate. Its lone survivor, adrift for 34 hours on a raft, brought the story ashore. Half dead from two nights and a day spent tortured and torn by the waves, he was carried off a rescue ship at Conneaut, Ohio. He is Captain Walter Grashaw, of this city, master of the Colgate, which went down off Long Point, Canada, opposite Erie. Every one of the crew of 21 perished, 19 of them sucked down to death the instant the big steel boat foundered in the storm and two added to the toll, when exhaustion, exposure and the relentless waves, sweeping over the raft that carried their Captain, washed them off when their strength gave way. The ferry steamer Marquette and Bensemer No. 2 picked up the Captain of Rondeau, Canada, opposite Cleveland.

CHICAGO POLICE CHIEF INDICTED

Charles C. Healey Accused of Malfeasance.

BOND FIXED AT $20,000

Charged With Permitting Gambling and Allowing Illegal Liquor Sales—Chief's Secretary and Secretary of Sportsmen Club Also Indicted.

Chicago, Oct. 24.—Charles C. Healey, chief of police, has been indicted on two charges in returns made in the criminal court here. The first indictment accuses him of malfeasance and the second names the chief, William Luthardt, his secretary, and Charles T. Essig, secretary of the Sportsmen's Club, as conspirators in a plot to nullify the anti-gambling laws.

Chief Healey's bond was fixed at $20,000. The bonds of Luthardt and Essig were fixed at $10,000 each.

Mayor Thompson was presiding over a city council meeting when informed that the indictments had been returned.

"I will make a statement later," he said. "But the people of Chicago should understand that only one side has been heard."

Capitales for the arrest of the three men were issued, but Mr. Hoynes ordered that they be withheld and the indicted men be allowed to surrender and give bond. After the return of the indictments, the state asked for the dismissal of the hearing on an application for warrants for Healey and others before Judge Olson. Judge Olson will give his decision on the application today.

In the first count, Chief Healey is accused of wilful and corrupt omission of his duties as chief of police in permitting the operation of gambling rooms, allowing the sale of liquor without licenses, failing to interfere with prostitution, and in making false statements to Mayor Thompson in order to restore saloon licenses which had been revoked. The second count was similar to the third, and charged Healey, Luthardt and Essig with conspiring to violate the laws.

Francis D. Hanna, former morals inspector, who has been demoted by Chief Healey, testified during the afternoon at the hearing before Judge Olson. He said he had received no encouragement from the head of the police department in the suppression of vice.

TWO KILLED. FIVE WOUNDED

Gun Battle Follows Attempt to Arrest Frank Taft.

Whitestone, N. Y., Oct. 24.—Two men were killed and five wounded here when Frank Taft, age sixty-five, was surrounded in his home by police, sailors from the United States torpedo boat Henley, and Paul Stier, sheriff of Queens county, who was accompanied by deputies.

Taft shot and killed Stier with a shotgun and in turn was himself killed by James Fitzgerald, a police sergeant. The latter shot Taft with an automatic repeating rifle which had been obtained from one of the sailors, but not until Taft had wounded four deputies and Fitzgerald.

A refusal of Taft to appear in the superior court in a contempt case was the cause of the trouble. The torpedo boat was in the sound off Whitestone and the sailors landed after the shooting began.

LETTERS CHOKE POSTOFFICE

Endless Chain Scheme Clogs Mail—Promoters Skip.

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 24.—Thousands of letters, each containing 10 cents, are pouring into the local post office daily from women in various parts of the country, who have joined in an "endless chain" scheme promoted by the so-called National Brokerage Exchange.

Federal agents are searching for officers of the "exchange," who are wanted for using the mails to defraud. A room in a local business block, to which all the letters are addressed, was suddenly vacated three weeks ago, the authorities say.

To every woman who would send 10 cents in silver and write five friends urging them to join in the chain, the "exchange" promised a "new 1917 model silk petticoat."

"The volume of mail for the 'exchange' is rapidly growing," said Postmaster E. A. Purday, "and we received 25,000 letters, enclosing 21,000 dimes. Thousands of the letters have been returned to the writers, but a large majority carry no return marks and as a result the dead-letter office is becoming clogged.

WORLD NEWS

The winter season has begun in Europe and military operations are carried on at greater disadvantage. On the frontier of France cold rains have been falling during the week, and on the Russian frontier snow has been falling, especially in the Carpathian mountains where the armies are trying to cross into Austrian-Hungary territory.

The fighting in the Somme region has been hard during the week. This has been due to the determined efforts of the Germans to regain lost ground in fierce counter attacks. The Allies, however, have advanced a few rods. Air craft are figuring much more in this movement than ever before and the French have constructed some large and powerful ships.

The combined army of Germans, Bulgarians and Turks operating in the region near the mouth of the Danube, under the command of General Mackensen, have been able to drive back the Rumanians and Russians thus gaining some points of vantage in the hills and cañons.

The Austrian prime minister, Count Karl Steurgh, has been shot and killed by the editor of a Vienna newspaper while he was sitting at his dinner. The Count was fifty-seven years old and had been prominent in the affairs of Austria for many years. He was appointed to his present position in 1911, and was a right hand man to the Emperor Francis Joseph.

The question has been raised in England in regard to an extension of the conscription law, making military service compulsory, to Ireland. The sensitive relation that has existed since the execution of Sir Roger Casement renders it likely that such an act would arouse all the anti-English feeling that lies latent in that part of the realm.

Conditions are reported to be prosperous in Russia. Moscow is the largest city in the interior and food is plentiful with the exception of meats. Prices are high but the rate of wages is also high and there is employment for all men available. Many large fortunes are being amassed during the war and a feeling of confidence seems to exist. Unfortunately the decree against vodka, the national drink, has not done away with this evil entirely for they are using alcohol in other forms.

On Sunday an election occurred in Mexico for delegates to a constitutional convention, which will meet to frame for Mexico a new Constitution that will embody the principles for which the revolutionists of the better class have been fighting so long, and which the United States has desired to see established. Following this an election must be held for a President of the country.

On October 9th an order was issued by Carranza which aims to bring about order by drastic punishment of brigandage of every form. Interference with freights on the railroads, raids on private ranches and other acts of a similar kind will be punished by death without the right of trial of the regular kind. It is a military measure and is now under discussion by the Joint Commission in their sittings in Connecticut.
